Frenchman, Now a Hero, Was Looked Upon as a Joke

(By Tad.)

New York, April 10.—Henry St. Yves of France, formerly a caterer in a London restaurant, is the hero of the sporting world. The young man who beat the greatest Marathon runners can claim the honor of being the best. He beat both Longboat and Shrubbs and made them both quit, and would have made Hayes and Dorando too. He lived the distance between Longboat and Shrubbs.

St. Yves was the smallest racer in the bunch Saturday, and at the start the biggest joke.

Dorando and Longboat most laughed themselves silly at the dark horse when he started. He had a choppy little stride like a Shetland pony. He took two steps to Longboat's one, and his feet were raised only about six inches from the ground, never much more.

They say that Johnny Hayes runs like an Indian—close to the ground—but this fellow has them all stopped on the short stride. He reminded you of a little sky terrier trying to keep up to a greyhound when he was next to Longboat. He was not at the front when the race started. Dorando took that job and set a merry clip for a while.

St. Yves jumped to the front then and simply burned the track up. They were offering 10 to 1 that he would not win, and even that he would not even be third. He is only 21 years old.

Harry Stevens, the Columbus of Frankfurt, urged all his friends to get a tack on St. Yves, but all his friends laughed at him. St. Yves looked too fat and pudgy. They didn't even think that the frog-eater would run the twenty-eight miles.

"Wait until about the fifteenth mile, Shrubbs will pull his cork," yelled the wise ones.

Mr. Shrubbs did attempt to extract the cork from Frenchy, but lost his own trying it. Longboat had a terrible job hanging on after St. Yves took the lead, and quit in the twentieth mile. Shrubbs hung on as closely as he could until the twenty-fourth, and then fell in behind.

Dorando was the next man, and was three laps ahead of Hayes and Maloney, who were supposed to be running against him.

St. Yves kept his fast pace right up to the finish and in the last mile tore around the big field as though he was just starting.

In about the seventh mile the Frenchman took a lead of about 75 feet. He stayed there and occasionally looked back to see how near the others were to him. Then for a lap or more he would run along looking at the ground. Suddenly the others would crawl up and then the bleachers would let out a yell, and then like a scared rabbit the Frenchman would take another spurt and regain his lead. This is what made the others laugh. They thought that after awhile the little pudgy guy would drop.

Maloney was the disappointment of the race. He was well liked and heavily backed, but either the track or the pace were too much for him. He was never even dangerous.

Johnny Hayes made a great finish and was roundly cheered, but what he lost at the start was too much of a handicap.

Tom Flanagan, who handled Longboat in the last race, said that the Indian was in no condition at all. Flanagan thought Dorando a cinch and bet $300 that he would win. He said Maloney's legs were too big for a Marathon runner.

JEFFRIES-JOHNSON FIGHT MAY OCCUR IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, April 9.—"If Jeffries fights Johnson, the battle probably will take place in San Francisco," was the statement made today by John Gleason, manager of Recreation Baseball Park.

"Some time ago," continued Mr. Gleason, "I wrote to Jeffries in New York, offering a purse of $50,000 for a twenty-round fight between him and Jack Johnson, for the championship of the world. I received this telegram today, in reply:

"New York, April 9.
"John Gleason, San Francisco:
"I, Jeffries, decides to re-enter the ring, will give your offer first consideration."
(Signed)
"SAM BERGER, Manager."

"I expect to go east soon to confer with Jeffries and Johnson, and as San Francisco is the only large city in the country where a contest of such importance could be staged, I think the chance of obtaining it for this city is very good.
"As the negotiations are only in a preliminary stage, nothing has been proposed as yet about the division of the purse."

KELLEY AND PAPKE MATCHED TO FIGHT

Chicago, April 9.—Hugo Kelley and Billy Papke were matched here today to fight again at Colma, May 15. The articles were signed shortly after Jimmy Caffroth, the San Francisco promoter, reached here. Caffroth and Sylvie Ferrit, Kelley's manager, agreed to 25 rounds at 158 pounds. Caffroth announced that in the event Kelley won, he would try to arrange for a bout between Kelley and Ketchel. Meanwhile, he said, he would try to match Ketchel and Jack Johnson.

BOUND OVER TO DISTRICT COURT

NICK VACOS HELD WITHOUT BOND TO AWAIT TRIAL.

District Attorney May File Information Charging Murder in First Degree—Change of Venue Probable.

The principal witnesses who testified at the preliminary hearing of Nick Vacos, charged with the murder of John Contos, yesterday afternoon were A. C. Cannon, O. O. Oldman and E. O. Isler, who testified that they heard the shot fired that killed Contos and saw a man dressed in a dark suit of clothes running westward on Twenty-fifth street. They stated that they lost sight of him at a point near the Elephant saloon. They could not swear as to the identity of the person and were permitted by the court to state whether the prisoner at the bar resembled the man they saw. They stated that they went to the place of the tragedy where they saw the body of John Contos lying upon the floor of the building, but of the east counter, in a double-upt position.

Officer Layne stated that he was called to the scene of the trouble in the establishment of John Contos, and that when he arrived at the place the victim of the shot fired was lying back of the counter in a double-upt position; that soon after his arrival Dr. Forbes arrived and pronounced Contos dead, whereupon, under the advice of Cosmos, who was working in the Contos store, he called Larkin's undertaking parlors and directed the firm to take charge of the body. The bullet fired from Vacos' gun was handed to him by Cosmos, who picked it up from the back counter of the store. It was a steel bullet of the .45 calibre size. Detective Pender, Sheriff Wilson, Captain Brown and Deputy Sheriff Hutchins were placed upon the stand and testified that they captured Vacos while hiding in a clump of weeds in an irrigating ditch, near Clearfield, Davis county, on Monday, the fifth day of April. They took from his pocket a Browning automatic revolver, .45 calibre, and forthwith brought the man to the county jail.

Attorney Jensen, for the state, undertook to prove by these witnesses, that Vacos confessed to the murder of Contos, but, under the objection of Attorney C. R. Hollingsworth, for the defendant, they were not permitted to testify to that fact. The court held that at the time of the presumed confession on the part of Vacos, he was manacled and in the hands of the officers of the law, hence a statement he might have made at that time could not be held against him.

At the conclusion of this testimony the state rested and the defendant, having no witnesses to call, rested. The matter was turned over to the court for a decision. Without any hesitancy, the court ordered that the defendant be held without bond to await the action of the trial court.

The matter is now up to the district attorney, and it is expected that he will immediately file an information charging Vacos with murder in the first degree. As soon as this is done Vacos will be arraigned in the Second district court to plead to the information.

It is generally understood that the attorney for Vacos will ask for a change of venue for the trial, upon the grounds that the sentiment in this particular locality is decidedly against the defendant, and that he cannot get a fair and impartial trial by a jury empaneled here.
